

British Memorial Wreath To U. S. Unknown Rouses Ire

Copyright, 1921, by the Press Publishing Co.
(The New York Evening World.)

LONDON, Oct. 28.—Under the caption, "Our Unhappy Wreath for America," the Manchester Guardian says: "It is impossible to refrain from comment on the design of the wreath that is being sent out to America as the British tribute to the American unknown soldier. The reproduction of it published in the press of to-day caused anger and dismay among all who think that the beautiful and the appropriate only are fitted for high national occasions."

"The design in this wreath, a group of birds dragging a large heart across a shield, was described by one authority to-day as a housemaid's valentine of the nineties. It certainly does not represent the average taste of to-day."

"What makes it the more unhappy is that this emblem will doubtless be given a high place of honor on the American tomb, and that not only Americans, but representatives of all great nations will be there and will see it. The wreath is not an official tribute, but the gift of the Pilgrim Fathers Association, from subscriptions raised over all England."

"The design is that of a court florist, and doubtless the technical arrangement of the flowers which go to make it will be a credit to the country. One cannot help thinking, however, that in a work of this importance, an artist should have been called in to give these beautiful flowers a solemn and beautiful shape."

Sergeant Selecting American for Burial Was Twice Wounded

Sergeant Edward F. Younger, who made the selection of the unknown soldier who will be buried at Arlington National Cemetery on Armistice Day, was chosen for this task because it was felt he, better than most men, represented the spirit of the American Army. Sergeant Younger participated in all the major engagements in which the United States troops took part and was twice wounded. He was decorated for his services by both the American and French Governments. Brought from Coblenz, where he is attached to Headquarters Company, 33rd Battalion, 50th Infantry, to Chalons-sur-Marne, Sergeant Younger was given a bouquet of roses and told to place them on one of four plain caaskets, each of which contained the body of an unknown soldier. Each of the four main American cemeteries in Europe supplied a silent candidate for the honor. The body thus selected is now en route to the United States.

THE DOOR SLAMS ON HAPPINESS

Poor Blood Makes
Bad Health—Then
Come the "Blues"

Once the vigor of red blood becomes sapped of its strength, the door to happiness is literally slammed. Weariness of body follows and it unfailingly engenders depressed thoughts. To be reserved and cheerless becomes a habit. After a time there is an almost perfect indifference to the expression of the eyes and a pallor to the skin. Days seem dull and dark and difficult. A sense of insufferable gloom pervades the spirit.
Then it is that Gude's Pepto-Mangan is the great help. It is a red blood building, it puts red into the blood—increases the number of corpuscles which make blood rich and red. When the blood is restored to its natural healthy state, the sensation of shuffling along carelessly, the listless and springy step, the bright lusterful eyes, the clear complexion, identified with the strength and vigor of good health. The druggist has Gude's Pepto-Mangan in both liquid and tablet form.—Adv.

HAVE COLOR IN CHEEKS

Be Better Looking—Take
Olive Tablets

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color.

To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no eruptions, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days you must get at the cause.
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects. They overcome constipation. Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results. Millions of boxes are sold annually at 15c and 80c.—Adv.
